Effective Date: [DATE]

1. Purpose

The Parties wish to explore a potential business relationship involving AI-powered content services. In connection with this, each Party may disclose confidential and proprietary information to the other.

2. Confidential Information

Covers all non-public information disclosed by either Party, including:

- Business: Plans, strategies, financials, pricing, customer lists, vendor relationships
- Product: Roadmaps, unreleased products, formulations, supplier details, costs
- Technical: Software, AI prompts, workflows, tools, processes, system architecture
- Creative: Brand guidelines, unpublished content, campaign concepts, messaging
- Customer: Customer data, audience insights, purchase behavior, email lists

3. Exclusions

Information is NOT confidential if it: was publicly available at disclosure; was already known (with written proof); was independently developed; was received from an unrestricted third party; or is required by law (with prompt notice to the other Party).

4. Obligations

Each Party agrees to: hold information in strict confidence; use it only for the stated Purpose; not disclose to third parties without written consent; limit access to need-to-know personnel bound by similar obligations; and protect with at least the same care as their own confidential information.

5. AI Tools Acknowledgment

CopyDTC uses AI tools (including Anthropic's Claude) in its workflow. Both Parties acknowledge: client brand info used in AI tools is covered by this Agreement; CopyDTC will not share Client info in public AI contexts; AI outputs for the Client are confidential until published; CopyDTC's prompts and workflows are CopyDTC confidential information.

6. Term

Effective from the Effective Date, continuing for 2 years from the date of last disclosure. Confidentiality obligations survive termination of any business relationship.

7. Return of Information

Upon request or termination, each Party will promptly return or destroy all received Confidential Information. One archival copy may be retained for legal compliance, subject to ongoing confidentiality.

8. General Terms

No license or IP rights granted. Breach may cause irreparable harm; injunctive relief available. Governed by the laws of State of _____. Amendments require written agreement. No assignment without consent. Severability applies.
